

ARMY CONTRACTING COMMAND REDSTONE

A major contracting center of U.S. Army Contracting Command, ACC- Redstone is the largest contracting center in the United States Army. The ACC-RSA team supports Soldiers worldwide by contracting for the development, production, and services of major weapon systems vital to Soldier readiness.

Headquartered at Redstone Arsenal, Alabama, ACC-RSA is the largest of six major Army Contracting Centers for the United States Army. ACC-RSA encompasses four remote site locations aligned to better serve the needs of the Army. The Center supports Army Material Command; Army Futures Command; Aviation and Missile Command; Program Executive Office (PEO) Missile and Space; PEO Aviation; Aviation and Missile Research, Engineering and Development Center; Redstone Arsenal – Garrison; U.S. Army's Measurement, and Diagnostic Equipment Activity; and Space and Missile Defense Command. ACC-RSA provides contracting support to several other program executive offices and program managers supporting the U.S. Army's major acquisition programs.

ACC-RSA's civilians and Soldiers support Warfighters worldwide by contracting for research and development, major weapon system production, sub-systems, and complex services vital to Soldier readiness. ACC-RSA ensures the Warfighter has the resources required to support any mission, anywhere, anytime. ACC-RSA supports a wide range of products and services from garrison to aviation and missile defense systems support; systems engineering and technical assistance; research and development to technology and engineering; concept development, prototyping, and limited production capability; foreign military sales; contingency support; range support; and operational support.

ACC-RSA awarded over 16,000 contract actions in fiscal year 2018 valued at more than $20 billion. The ACC-RSA mission is accomplished by more than 900 Professional Civilian and Military Contracting Personnel. The personnel of ACC-RSA are subject matter experts and consummate professionals ready to support the Warfighter while ensuring responsible stewardship of taxpayer funds.
