

ARMY CONTRACTING COMMAND REDSTONE

Army Contracting Command-Redstone is a major contracting center of the U.S. Headquarters, Army Contracting Command. ACC-RSA is the largest contracting center in the United States Army with more than 900 contracting and acquisition professionals. ACC-RSA supports the warfighter worldwide by contracting for major weapon system production, sub-systems and services vital to the Soldiers' mission and well-being.

Headquartered at Redstone Arsenal, Alabama, ACC-RSA is the largest of six major Army Contracting Centers for the United States Army. ACC-RSA encompasses four remote site locations aligned to better serve the needs of the Army. The center supports Army Material Command; Army Futures Command; Aviation and Missile Command; Program Executive Office (PEO) Missile and Space; PEO Aviation; Aviation and Missile Research, Engineering and Development Center; Redstone Arsenal – Garrison; U.S. Army's Measurement, and Diagnostic Equipment Activity; and Space and Missile Defense Command. ACC-RSA provides contracting support to several other program executive offices and program managers supporting the U.S. Army's major acquisition programs.

The ACC-RSA team supports Warfighters worldwide by contracting for research and development, major weapon system production, sub-systems, and complex services vital to Soldier readiness. ACC-RSA ensures the Warfighter has the resources required to support any mission, anywhere, anytime. ACC-RSA supports a wide range of products and services from garrison to aviation and missile defense systems support; systems engineering and technical assistance; research and development to technology and engineering; concept development, prototyping, and limited production capability; foreign military sales; contingency support; range support; and operational support.

ACC-RSA awarded more than 15,500 contract actions in fiscal year 2020 valued at more than $24.7 billion. The ACC-RSA mission is accomplished by more than 900 professional civilian and military contracting personnel. These hard working professionals are subject matter experts and consummate professionals ready to support the Warfighter while ensuring responsible stewardship of taxpayer funds.
