

ARMY CONTRACTING COMMAND

The U.S. Army Contracting Command (ACC), its subordinate organizations and contracting centers enable Army readiness through contracting solutions in support of the Army and Unified Land Operations, anytime, anywhere. As the Army's principal buying agent, ACC ensures Soldiers have what they need to be successful, from food and clothing to bullets and bombs.

Headquartered at Redstone Arsenal in Alabama, ACC is a major subordinate command of U.S. Army Materiel Command. ACC has one subordinate one-star command - Mission and Installation Contracting Command (MICC) for locations inside the continental United States – and six major contracting centers that provide support to AMC's life cycle management commands.

As the Army's principal buying agent, ACC supports Army readiness and modernization by utilizing best practices and expert-level oversight to provide warfighters with premier contracting support. The command accomplishes its global operational missions with a professional workforce of Soldiers, Department of the Army civilians, foreign local nationals and contractors at more than 100 locations worldwide – the sun never sets on ACC.

ACC ensures contracting support to the Soldier as mission requirements emerge and as the Army transforms and operates within the continental United States and around the globe.

As an international business enterprise, ACC executes more than 165,000 contract actions each fiscal year, comprising around 70 percent of the Army's contract dollars on average. In fiscal year 2017, ACC executed more than 165,000 contract actions valued at more than $62 billion. ACC accomplishes this with more than 6,000 military and civilian employees.

In support of Army and joint forces, ACC provides effective and agile contracting service across the full spectrum of military operations for U.S. Army Service Component Commanders, as well as other defense organizations at locations outside the continental United States. It has eight contracting support brigades, 13 contracting battalions and 68 contracting teams stationed throughout the world.

ACC supports approximately 180 expeditionary missions in 50 countries each year. A combat multiplier, ACC has the capability to deploy anywhere in the world on short notice to provide operational contract support planning, contract policy and oversight, contract execution, contract administration, contract surveillance in support of deployed forces and contract closeout.

Since 2015, ACC has maintained a forward presence in Afghanistan to ensure the right services are provided to U.S. forces in their support of Operations Freedom's Sentinel and Resolute Support.

The MICC provides contracting support for Soldiers across Army commands, installations and activities located in the continental United States and Puerto Rico. The customer base for the MICC includes the U.S. Army Forces Command, U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command, U.S. Army North, U.S. Army Reserve Command and U.S. Army Medical Command. The MICC consists of a field directorate office and 32 field offices.

With a wealth of contracting expertise, ACC professionals are dedicated to providing the highest quality of contracting support to all of their customers, whenever and wherever needed. A combat multiplier, ACC is doing its part to keep the Army strong.
